Winter is here; are you ready for it? Several things there are that should be looked after before snow flies. See to it that the stock will be well sheltered; that the wood house is well stocked; that the coal bin is attended to—and there's lots of other little matters which, if looked after now, will tend to lessen labor while snow is on the ground.

Mrs. L. E. Ricamore has received her Fall and Winter Millinery Goods —all the newest fashions and latest styles.

The first touch of winter in Berryville this season was experienced last Thursday and Friday, when cold Western winds blew for 48 hours.

Thursday night a slight snow storm prevailed. The first freeze of the season occurred Monday morning, when a skim of ice was found by the early risers.

Charlestown has quarantined against persons from Harrison county, W. Va., where there is a good deal of smallpox among the colored men who are working on a new railroad.

Mr. John H. Snyder, a life long resident of Shepherdstown and one of the oldest citizens, died early Sunday morning of pneumonia after an illness of only a couple of days. He was in the 81st year of his age. Mr.
Snyder is survived by his wife and five children.

The election last week passed off quietly in the county—in fact it was one of the quietest ever held here.
Election returns were received over the telephone from Winchester, but the crowd that congregated to hear same was unusually small.

Briefs.

The Berryville Fire Company was called out twice last Friday by alarms of fire. The first alarm was given Friday morning and fire was found to be at the home of the Williams', colored, in Mr. Diffenderfer's lane.
The roof of the building was burning, but the flames were suppressed before the Fire Company or the downtown crowd reached the scene. Friday night the second fire was at the home of Mr. W. R. Shryock. The chimney having caught fire and was burning furiously. The Fire Company responded promptly to the alarm and in a few minutes had the hose playing on the roof of the building and on the nearby property, which was endangered by the sparks carried by the high wind. This small fire was easily suppressed.

A general public reception will be given in the New High School building (about ten days) preceding the opening of Physical Culture classes, when all ladies of Clarke, above 16 years are cordially invited to hear and see what practical Bodiculture means. F. C. CATON.

Rev. W. R. D. Moncure, formerly pastor of the Leetown Baptist church, Jefferson county, W. Va., died last Friday week in Richmond, where he had gone, suffering from complication of diseases, for medical treatment. A surgical operation was performed from which he died. He was well known to the Baptist denomination of this State, and was much respected and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He, on several occasions, occupied the pulpit in the Baptist Church here, and the congregations were deeply impressed by his earnestness and zeal. He was about sixty-five years old.

The Local Merchants.

An advertisement in a live paper always pays good interest on the money invested. Most merchants expect to get a return of several hundred dollars from a twenty five dollar ad and feel disappointed when this extravagant expectation is not fulfilled. Money judiciously spent for advertising will bring in larger returns than when invested in other ways, but the newspapers of the country cannot perform impossibilities. They can, however, and do give good results to all those who make a liberal use of printers' ink in recommending their wares to the public. In every community the most successful merchants are those who make use of the columns of the local papers.—Seneca Falls (N. Y.) Journal.

Briefs.

Information was received here Tuesday morning of a disastrous fire in Winchester Monday night, which destroyed the Star Printing Co.'s establishment. A phone message from Winchester says that the fire occured at about 2 o'clock, and is supposed to have originated in the engine room of the newspaper office. The loss is almost complete and is estimated at $2,000. There is insurance on the property. This conflagration will necessitate the Star ceasing publication for awhile, but it is a too lively paper to be permanently shut down by this disaster.

There was a bad freight wreck Wednesday morning on the Norfolk & Western Railway at Riverton. A north-bound double header freight train, as it was rounding a curve near the Carson Lime Company sidetrack, was partially derailed, many cars leaving the track. The engines, however, stayed on the track for a half mile. No one was injured, but many of the trucks and several cars were badly smashed. All passenger trains were greatly delayed, and passengers had to be transferred. The wreck was cleared away that night.

Mrs. John Gray, of Winchester, has issued cards for the marriage of her daughter, Francis Westwood, to Mr. Joseph Wright, Jr. The ceremony takes place Wednesday afternoon, November 21st, at 5:30 o'clock, in Christ Church, Winchester, of which city both parties are residents.

By an incendiary fire, says a Winchester telegram, Mr. John Poole, a well known farmer living near High View, Frederick county, lost his barn all its contents, on Tuesday night of last week. All his farming implements, this season's crops, together with four head of horses and mules, perished in the flames. The loss is more than $1,000, with only $400 insurance.

Dr. G. H. Oliver will return home from Baltimore about November 23rd, and will be prepared to resume the practice of dentistry.

A Timely Suggestion.

MR. EDITOR: Are white folks exempt from the "Mayor's Order?"
OBSERVER.

Mr. Samuel Boxwell Dead.

After years of suffering, during the last two of which he was a helpless invalid, Mr. Samuel Boxwell died at the home of his brother, Mr.
Charles Boxwell, near Berryville, at four o'clock Monday morning.

The funeral took place at Gainsboro Church Tuesday at 1 o'clock.
Friends met at "Rosemont" at 9 o'clock that morning.

Mr. Boxwell was born in Well-town about 83 years ago, and for the greater part of his life was a quiet unostentatious farmer, but for many years, has been failing in health.

He is survived by a son, Mr.
Charles Boxwell, of Winchester, three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Edwards and Minnie Paschal, of Martinsburg, and Mrs. Mary Whitmore, of Gainsboro. Besides his brother Mr. Charles, of Berryville, he has four others.

Light in the Lookley Murder Case.

The veil of mystery, shrouding the death of John Lookley, which has excited much interest and talk among all classes here ever since his body was found on the railroad track on the morning of Oct. 7th, is being gradually lifted, and the light of justice is creeping beneath and reveal the culprits who sent Lookley into eternity. For the past ten days a detective has been engaged in dissipating the cloud, beneath which Lock-ley's murderers have been hiding, and his work has met with marked success. He has succeeded in moulding a chain of evidence around certain parties that will be hard to break.
He has not divulged any of the evidence he has against the men alleged to be implicated in the murder, but he expresses himself as being satisfied that he knows the guilty parties.

About a week ago Lewis Jackson was arrested, charged with being an accessory to the crime. It will be remembered that Lewis Jackson is the last man whom the evidence, that has been given publicity, shows that saw Lookley alive, and it is believed, i he is not connected with the crime he can throw some light on the affair.
It has been ascertained that Jackson and Lookley were not the best of friends, and it is believed that Lock-ley's riding Jackson's horse to town from the dance so angered the latter that he became a party with others in seeking to harm Lookley. He is a quiet, inoffensive negro, and this is the first time he has gotten in trouble. He drinks hard, and was said to be drunk on the night the killing occurred. He has a large family and works on the farm of Mr. Elias Parshall, south of town.

Wm. Robinson, who was held by Magistrate Messer for complicity in the murder, has been bailed at the instance of the detective who is satisfied of his innocence of the affair.
The evidence against Robinson was purely circumstantial with some missing links, and he would have had no trouble in proving an alibi.

Lookley's body was exhumed over a week ago for a most critical examination by several doctors. On the top of his skull was found a mark of a cut, which had evidently been inflicted by a sharp instrument—like a cornknife—and left no doubt in the minds of the doctors and others who were present that the man was murdered before run over by the train, and completely substantiating the doctor's evidence before the inquest trial. Jackson was brought before Justice Hardesty on Monday, and committed for trial on the 22nd. The men suspected of the murder will come before the January grand jury.
Brutally Assaulted.

Mr. Walter Henry, a well known young man of Winchester was assaulted on the street in that place last Wednesday afternoon, by Frank L. Taylor, a negro coachman in the employ of Mr. E. Wickham Byrd, of Clarke county. The latter and Mr.
Henry were walking down Rouss avenue discussing the election and followed by Taylor. Taylor, who is a giant in physique, took offence at a remark made by Mr. Henry to Mr.
Byrd, and drawing a revolver, struck Henry a terrific blow with the end of it on the side of the head. Henry fell to the sidewalk unconscious, with a ghastly wound near the temple, and by-standers thought he had been killed. Taylor was arrested and taken to jail. Feeling ran high and against him for awhile, and he was closely guarded. Later in the evening he was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Bragoiner, who committed him to jail without bail to await the result of Henry's injuries. The prisoner endeavored to obtain bail, before Judge Atkinson, in the City Court, but it was refused.

Henry's condition is serious, and Dr. Love, his physician said that if the blow had been an inch lower, the man would have been killed. As it is there is a jagged wound over three inches in length on the side of the head, which exposed the skull to view. The injured man is delirious at times but the physician says he will recover.

In Berryville, where Taylor is well known, he has the reputation of being a quiet, polite and orderly dorkie when sober. When intoxicated, he is the opposite and makes himself very mean and ugly.

Taylor was given a hearing before Justice Bragoiner on Monday, and held for the action of the grand jury that meets in December. He is charged with malicious assault with intent to kill, and also with carrying concealed weapons. The former is a felony punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary from one to ten years. The latter charge will not be pressed at present.
